I am at san diego state university to address a group of almost 200 vets who want to go to college. To my wonderful surprise, almost 30 of the 200 are wounded warriors who are now making plans for college. And they are easily identified in their wounded warrior polo shirts! And none of this opportunity for the wounded would have been possible without your gifts - land of the free foundation and google. Thought you would want to know about this miracle made possible because of you.
